

GUILFORD TECHNICAL COMMUNITY COLLEGE

GENERAL CONTRACTOR'S PREP COURSES – FALL 2009

General Contractor's Prep

This course has four components – making students aware of the requirements to becoming a Residential General Contractor in North Carolina, information on the application process, information on the state licensing exam, and study of working in the field through an examination of blueprint reading and other topics – building terminology, estimating, safety, employment regulations, building and administrative codes. Individuals must meet specific requirements to become a General Contractor. Please go to www.ncibgc.net and see if you meet these requirements PRIOR to registering for this class. Textbooks are required and must be purchased from the High Point campus bookstore ONLY PRIOR to class. Cost of this class is $128.
