STAFF ASSOCIATION ELECTS OFFICERS

JAMESTOWN – Laura Altizer of Archdale has been elected president of the Staff Association at Guilford Technical Community College. Altizer, research associate for institutional research and planning, succeeds Toni Bass-Manley of Climax.

Wanda Scott of High Point was re-elected secretary/treasurer. She is executive secretary for the vice-president of instruction.

Others elected were Michelle Hines of Greensboro, vice-president/president-elect; Jan Keimeg of Greensboro, professional at-large representative; and Tonya England of High Point, classified at-large representative.

Hines is an admissions representative; Keimeg is coordinator for the grants office of the GTCC Foundation; and England is administrative assistant for student life.

Besides Bass-Manley, other outgoing officers are Frankie Lane, professional representative, and Ashley Mackey-Whitworth, classified representative, both of Greensboro.

Among the purposes of the association is to foster cooperation with the administration and faculty to uphold the college's mission. Membership is open to employees below the rank of assistant dean or director.
