

CELEBRATE. RECOGNIZE. RESPOND.

Join us in celebrating Women’s History Month and the 100th Anniversary of the 19th Amendment, securing women’s right to vote. This three-part series is designed to recognize the lives and contributions of NC women who blazed the trail and enlighten us all as we journey through a historic election year.

MARCH 11, 12:00 PM

Incidents in the Life of a Slave Girl

Discuss the book that chronicles the true story of Harriet A. Jacobs, a North Carolina slave who overcame a life of bondage to gain freedom, becoming an abolitionist and published author.

Made possible through collaboration with GTCC’s Student Life and English and Humanities departments and You Can Vote voter registration drive.

MARCH 18, 12:00 PM

My Story to the Judge’s Seat

Hear the story of North Carolina Superior Judge Lora Cubbage and her unconventional road to the Judicial Court System — a story of determination and what it means to aspire to greatness.

Made possible through collaboration with NC Court System and You Can Vote voter registration drive.

MARCH 25, 12:00 PM

Voter ID Law Changes and the Importance of Voting Locally

Learn how new voter ID law changes and voting locally affects you. Plus, hear more about the 19th Amendment, and why women voting is vital to our democracy.

All events will be located in the Applied Technologies Building Auditorium located on the Jamestown Campus. ADMISSION IS FREE.

March 1 – 31

Register to Vote!

You Can Vote will have voter registration tables set up throughout the month.

HOSTED BY GTCC LIBRARY. This program was supported by grant funds from the Institute of Museum and Library Services under the provisions of the federal Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA) as administered by the State Library of North Carolina, a division of the Department of Natural and Cultural Resources (IMLS grant number LS-00-19-0034-19).